

CURRICULUM VITAE

Cecília HORNOK, Ph.D.

Personal website: <https://sites.google.com/site/ceciliahornok/home>

E-mail: cecilia.hornok@gmail.com

Undergraduate Studies:

M.A., Economics, Central European University, 2001

M.Sc., Economics and Finance, Corvinus University of Budapest, 1999

Graduate Studies:

Central European University, 2011

Ph.D. in Economics

Thesis Title: "International Trade Barriers"

Teaching Experience:

2012 - 2013 Microeconomics, Hamburg School of Business Administration, lecturer

Fall, 2008 Applied Econometrics, Central European University, teaching fellow

Winter, 2008 Advanced Macroeconomics, Central European University, teaching fellow

Spring, 2004 International Economics, Corvinus University of Budapest, teaching fellow

Spring, 2002 Macroeconomics, Corvinus University of Budapest, teaching fellow

Research Experience and Other Employment:

2013 - Institute of Economics, Hungarian Academy of Sciences, contracted researcher

2011 - 2012 Central European University, research fellow

2010 - 2011 Johannes Kepler University Linz, research fellow

2001 - 2007 Central Bank of Hungary, economist

2006 European Central Bank, economist

Professional Activities:

Selected conference presentations and seminars:

Sep 2013 European Trade Study Group Annual Conference, Birmingham

May 2012 Seminar at Georg-August University Göttingen

April 2012 Seminar at La Trobe University Melbourne

Nov 2011 Conference on Globalization, Strategies and Effects, Kolding

Oct 2011 European Winter Meeting of the Econometric Society, Tel Aviv

April 2009 The XIV. Spring Meeting of Young Economists, Istanbul

Referee for Acta Oeconomica, Czech Journal of Economics and Finance, Economics E-Journal, Emerging Markets Finance and Trade, MNB Working Papers, The World Economy

Honors, Scholarships, and Fellowships:

2010 - 2011	Marie Curie Fellowship for early-stage researcher in project "Globalization, Investments and Services Trade"
2011	Award for Advanced Doctoral Students, Central European University
2009	Olga Radzyner Award of the Austrian Central Bank
2009	Young Economist Award, 3rd FIW Research Conference in International Economics, Vienna
2005	Academic Achievement Award for First-Year Doctoral Students, Central European University

Language Skills: English (fluent), German (fair), Hungarian (mother tongue)

Publications and Research Papers:

Per-Shipment Costs and the Lumpiness of International Trade, joint with Miklós Koren, forthcoming in The Review of Economics and Statistics, 2014.

Modelling Firm-Product Level Trade: A Multi-Dimensional Random Effects Panel Data Approach, with László Mátyás and Daria Pus, CEU Working Papers 2013/2.

Gravity or Dummies: The Limits of Identification in Gravity Estimations, CEU Working Papers 2012/11.

The Formulation and Estimation of Random Effects Panel Data Models of Trade, with László Mátyás and Daria Pus, CEU Working Papers 2012/1.

Need for Speed: Is Faster Trade in the EU Trade-creating?, MNB Working Papers 2012/4.

Lumpy Trade and the Welfare Effects of Administrative Barriers, with Miklós Koren, CeFiG Working Papers 14, Center for Firms in the Global Economy (September 2011).

Is Faster Trade More Trade? Evidence from EU Enlargement, VoxEU article:
<http://www.voxeu.org/index.php?q=node/6733> (9 July 2011)

Trade-Enhancing EU Enlargement and the Resurgence of East-East Trade, OeNB Focus on European Economic Integration Q3/2010.

'Through a Glass Darkly': Fiscal Expansion and Macroeconomic Development, 2001-2006, with Zoltán M. Jakab and Gábor P. Kiss, MNB Bulletin, April 2008.

Forecasting Inflation: A Case Study on the Czech, Hungarian, Polish, Slovakian and Slovenian Central Banks, with Zoltán M. Jakab, MNB Background Studies 2002/2